

Recommendation Letter for Aliko Ntougou

To Whom it May Concern

Respected Sir/Madam,

It is with great pleasure that I write to confirm that Aliko Ntougou has undergone an intensive virtual project-based seminar at Home University with a purpose of developing human centric solutions to challenges and problems within the topic framework of Well-Being. After successful presentation of the project at home University, throughout which Aliko Ntougou and the team (Wellnest) have been working also internationally in a tandem team with projects of other universities across globe, they have been selected as most promising international talents and team members and scouted for international project eBridge¹.

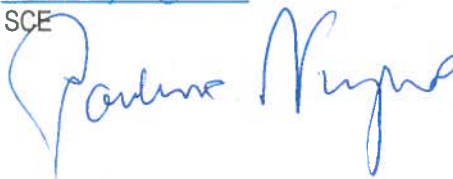

The eBridge process is inspired by the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals because it is impact driven and fosters responsible entrepreneurship. Based on challenges defined by these goals, teams and talents develop solutions that have an impact on society as a whole. eBridge is implemented in cooperation with 14 universities worldwide with an objective to create innovative startups, support their internationalization and develop B2B co-creation projects.

Selected as promising talents and team members, Aliko Ntougou has undergone an international pre-acceleration process in which further business modelling of the startup idea has been supported by a variety of business coaches and experts worldwide. Through this process Aliko Ntougou has raised sympathies and support of various incubators and university representatives for her commitment, entrepreneurial passion, vision and drive.

The project developed by Aliko Ntougou and her team is one of the highest ranked in eBridge through which Aliko Ntougou showcased meticulous attention to detail, project management skills and importantly so the entrepreneurial spirit. With this in mind, I am certain that Aliko Ntougou would be beneficial to any company or a startup for which sustainability is a core principle.

Aliko Ntougou has a sharp entrepreneurial mindset and with certainty I claim that on her entrepreneurial roadmap she will be recognized as one of the leading talents, and responsible entrepreneurs of our society.
